Dear SPA Family,

The radio, TV, smartphone, fridge, washing machine, lamp... cut off from the power source are just pieces of furniture/device of no great value. They do not fulfill their essential task. The moment they are connected to a power source, they take on their full value and begin 'to live'.

It is the same with our spiritual life. In order for each of us to bear the fruit God intended, we must strive to be constantly united to Christ. Jesus compares Himself to the vine and us to its branches. He says: "I am the true vine; you are the branches. Whoever remains in me and I in him bears much fruit, because without me you can do nothing".

Just as the value of the branch, its vitality and fructification depend on union with the vine, so also the value of our life depends on our union with Christ. What does that mean exactly? Well, this means that each of us is a branch planted by Christ in a vineyard named 'Church'. Each of us is to bear the fruit that God set for him when he chose him and gave him a special calling.

The fundamental bond with Christ is the state of sanctifying grace that we obtained in baptism. We can, however, lose this grace by committing a mortal sin. We then become dry, dead twigs that belong to the vine – but they are not alive, they do not bear fruit.

So, what should we do to be with Christ continually? First of all, we must try to live in a state of God's grace. Everything else; prayer, Holy Mass, Holy Communion, keeping the commandments, faith, love – these are the means or results of living in God's grace.

Thanks to Christ, we know that God Himself is the source of our spiritual life. Thanks to his love and grace, everything we do in our lives takes on meaning and value. "Whoever remains in me and I in him, the same bears much fruit".

The misfortune of dying in God's grace and being unable to bear fruit usually begins with little things. It begins with neglect in the morning or evening prayers and ends with stopping praying altogether. We start slowly to skip Sunday Mass and end up stopping attending the Eucharist. We neglect confession before Christmas or Easter, and we end up not going to confession for a few or many years.

The same happens in our dying in commandments and moral values. We start with the first cigarette and end with an insatiate craving for it. It starts with one glass of wine and often ends with an alcohol addiction. We reach out for the first dose of the drug, and it may end up wasting and losing health and life. It innocently starts with a flirtation and I may end with divorce, the breakdown of marriage and family.

Let us remember that as many times as we cut ourselves off from Christ and His grace, we die and bear no fruit. No wonder our hearts grow cold, and, in many cases, we end up deviating completely from Christ. Separated from Jesus, not only do we fail to bear God's commissioned fruit, but our lives also end in a spiritual defeat. Then the words of Christ are fulfilled: "Whoever does not remain in me will be thrown out like a vine and wither. And it is picked up and thrown into the fire and it is burned" (Jn 15.6). Nobody wants that! I don't... and I believe that you do neither.

Let us therefore remain in union with Christ. This is our mission and calling here on earth. The value of our actions, our prayers and the value of our lives depend on it.

Have a blessed week, Fr. Chris Ciastoń

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT- OUR VINE HOLDS ONTO US...

BY: MARY PENICH

Though wintery temperatures threatened, sunshine beckoned me outdoors. That morning, I left home with a lot on my mind. For days, I'd absorbed too much of the negativity which bombarded me from every direction. While I gratefully acknowledged that my own family was fine at the moment, many others in this world were suffering far more than any of us should. I wondered repeatedly what I could do to alleviate any of this. A few days earlier, I woke with similar thoughts which plagued me that entire day. Determined to dispel them, I'd grabbed the book of daily reflections which I read every morning. As I turned to that day's page, some papers fell from the back of the book. Though I recognized their message and author immediately, I had no idea of how those pages had gotten there. Eighteen years had passed since I'd first read their message...

As I walked, I dared not look up to ask how those pages made their way into that book. I was afraid that God might say, "Well, Mary, I've tried everything else to get your attention!" At the same time, I thanked God for this discovery because, as is God's custom in such things, it was perfectly time. You see, my sister had written down her thoughts the day before our mom passed away. Though Jo Ann wanted nothing more than for our mom to experience a miracle cure and to live, she knew better than to ask. So it was that my sister sat at our mom's bedside and considered the life which had brought our mom to that particular day. I have that copy of her sentiments because Jo Ann had shared them back then. Here's a bit of what she wrote...

"My Mother has led a wonderful life, as she often reminds us as we struggle to deal with her mortality. She has always felt lucky - blessed that she has had so much to be thankful for. She found two good men to love and marry... She never complained or showed anger at losing my Father to heart disease at the age of 39 leaving her with six children to raise alone. She found herself blessed with the meeting of my Stepfather several years later who was willing to share her life along with her six children. When he succumbed to emphysema, she was accepting and once again showed no signs of anger or bitterness over her loss. She even lost her only son to Diabetes and resultant complications at the age of 53. Still, she never wallowed in self-pity or blamed others for her situation..."

Our mother was an extremely independent woman. Perhaps this is the reason my sister noted that, when our mom had to give up her own condo, hand over her car keys and move in with one of her daughters: "She never complained. Though she could have been very angry, bitter and resentful - and justifiably so, she was not." After watching and contemplating our mom's life that day, my sister concluded: "It's important now to remember all the richness and happiness in her life. She was not a demonstrative person, but I always felt her love. She was the epitome of practicality which sometimes made her comments sound callous or cold. But not if you really knew her. This was her way of dealing with whatever life dealt her in her calm, accepting manner. She is an example to all of us to lose our anger, our frustration, our self-pity and move on. Do not wallow. Get on with the all-important business of living a good, charitable life."

It was while I walked that morning that I decided to share my sister's words with you. As I puzzled over how to do this, the scent of lilacs drew me in. I looked around and discovered purplish blooms covering a neighbor's archway trellis. Thick lilac vines held tightly to numerous branches sprouting this way and that. Heavy as those branches were, those sturdy vines held them in place, providing the nourishment and support they needed all the while.

Today, John's gospel (15:1-8) beckons us all to hold onto Jesus-the-Vine who is far stronger and sustaining than my neighbor's lilac vine. Through Jesus, God-the-Vine-Grower offers the nourishment and support we need throughout the seasons of our lives. Perhaps God nudged those pages from my book to remind me of the nurturing vine who kept my siblings and me safely anchored through so many of this life's storms. My mom felt lucky because she realized God had anchored her through the best and worst of times. Perhaps God-the-Vine-Grower is using my sister's words to remind us all to hold on tightly as well. When we do so, even when we sprout this way and that, God-the-Vine-Grower keeps us anchored and secure.

Dear St. Paul Family,

It has been an absolute joy to journey with you these last five years. This community of faith has uplifted me in so many ways. This community of faith has kept me grounded in ministry and has shown me the unqualified love of Our Jesus. You have prayed for me. You have laughed with me. You have cried with me. I am so grateful that the Spirit led me to assist with the sacramental life of your parish and be a fellow disciple on the journey.

It is that same Spirit that has now led me to a new horizon. Cardinal Cupich has asked me to take leave of my ministry and teaching at the seminary and become the new Director and Chaplain of the Sheil Catholic Center at Northwestern University. I am very excited for this new path ahead of me and I am looking forward to being able to journey with the many students of Northwestern University and also the greater community who make up the family of faith that is the Sheil Catholic Center.

This new ministry, however, means that I will be saying “farewell” to my St. Paul the Apostle family in June. We will certainly have time to say our farewells, but I wanted you to know just how much I love this community of faith and how I will be savoring every last minute of being able to pray and journey with you.

Please pray for me, for Mundelein Seminary and for the Sheil Catholic Center at Northwestern University.

Mother's Day Rose Sale

The traditional Mother's Rose Sale to benefit Respect Life Charities and Lake County Right to Life in the past will NOT be taking place this year in its traditional form due to the COVID pandemic. But their need for funds is needed more than ever. The Knights have worked with Respect Life Charities and Lake County Right to Life for many years and tried to assist them in in all their endeavors to reach their fundraising goals. So, this year, what we have done is set up a notice on the parish website with a link to electronically donate to the Respect for Life Charities directly in lieu of flowers for Mom this year or as a matching gift. Or another idea might be to match whatever you spend elsewhere for flowers for the deserving Mom's in your life, make a matching gift to Respect Life Charities. Or, whatever you feel you can give. I am sure Respect Life Charities and Lake County Right to Life hope to be back in our Gathering Space next year. Here is the link to the fundraiser:
